

Dear FCC,

Over the last year I have experienced a 99% drop in telemarketer calls. This has changed the quality of life for my family. We find our family time during dinner to be an important time of the day. It was very annoying to have telemarketers call us. We are not interested in their products. It is my option to look into a product, to research it on my own. I am offended with the pushing of products by these telemarketers. Please do not overturn the NJ Do Not Call List.

Laura Frasco